We profiled this new short film Brotherly Love, written, directed and co-starring Choice Skinner (who's a devoted reader of S & A) last summer, and the reaction from readers for the trailer was tremendous.

We're therefore happy to report that the film will have its premiere next week at the NewFilmmakers Film Festival in Los Angeles on Dec. 15.

The festival takes place at the Sunset Gower Studios in LA located at 1438 N. Gower St. For more info about the festival go HERE and once again here's the trailer for the film:
