

"A Surprise," Press Kit

BIOS:

Patrick Mulderrig - Writer/Director/Producer

A former Navy SEAL from Long Island, NY. As a film maker he has won Best comedy for his film, "Tranny Trainer," starring Sean Patrick Flanery, at the Malibu, All Things Hollywood and Camp, Cult Film Classics film festivals. His other films, and screenplays including, "A Surprise," tend to focus on action, crime or thriller genres. He is currently creating a web series, "A Cannibal's Handshake," that is crime/black comedy and pitching his action/adventure script: Diver Down.

As an actor he has appeared in TV's "Scrubs," Michael Bay's "Transformers" and various independent productions.

Eric Michael Cole - Lead Actor

Eric Michael Cole was born in Sacramento, California but grew up in the Pacific Northwest. His first movie was Mr. Holland's Opus followed by his breakthrough role as Dean Preston in White Squall directed by Ridley Scott. Soon after he appeared in the television film Gia with Angelina Jolie for HBO Films. During the course of his career he's appeared in Sons of Anarchy, Southland, and Law & Order on television, as well as many features that include New Best Friend, Trash, and Sunken City. Eric also enjoys producing with In Memory of My Father and The Runaway. He recently wrapped a starring role in Hangman due at the end of the year. As of 2015, he resides in Los Angeles, CA and is a strict vegetarian. He is a skilled craftsman and continues to study the art of acting with his teacher Max

Decker at the CM Acting Studio.

Linzi Graham - Actor

A proud member of AEA and SAG-AFTRA, Linzi has performed as an actress in regional theaters across the nation since age six and studied theater performance and broadcast journalism at Fordham College at Lincoln Center where she graduated summa cum laude in three years before she ventured into her on-camera work.

She won "Best Actress in a Musical" Spotlight Awards for the roles of Belle in Beauty and the Beast at Seacoast Repertory Theater and for Eponine in Les Miserables at Ogunquit Playhouse. She also debuted the off-Broadway musicals A Song for Ireland and Laughing Pictures: A Hollywood Odyssey.

Being a martial artist in Shaolin Kempo Karate and being trained in fight choreography has been useful in her toolbox, as well as being trained in improv through UCB and being proficient in IPA so that any accent or dialect can be learned quickly. Except jive...She accepts her limitations.

Beyond her career as an actress, Lindsey has performed as a singer and pianist at venues such as Carnegie Hall, The State Opera House in New York City, The Country Theater in Nashville, Planet Hollywood Theater for the Performing Arts in Las Vegas, New England arenas with the Boston Pops and on various stages for nationally televised sporting events. Enjoying styles from classical to R&B, she has sung most genres including country--yes, even yodeling--and won international singing competitions as well as "Gospel Female Vocalist of the Year" award by North America's CMA.

She started print modeling during her time in the Miss America Organization while she was Miss New Hampshire. After winning the Lifestyle & Fitness Award (aka the Swimsuit Award), she continued modeling in New York City and Los Angeles.

Leonard Cataudella - Actor

A Navy veteran, Leonard grew up in Connecticut and moved to Los Angeles to pursue his acting career. He has been on General Hospital, National Commercials and theater as often as possible. He credits training at UCLA, Killian's, West Side Comedy and The Beverly Hills Playhouse as having a big positive impact on his life.

Marco Bottiglieri - Cinematographer

In the last few years Marco Bottiglieri has directed and produced numerous nationally acclaimed short films, several national commercials, and multiple music videos some featuring award-winning artists such as Stephen Bishop. While directing is Marco's first passion, he is also skilled as a director of photography and worked as a DP on projects including James Franco's web series Undergrads South, and music videos featuring artists from The Voice. He also shot the feature film 8 Days which has secured international distribution and sold out in several venues across the United States. Marco's success has gained him recognition and an audience at the Student Television Network, the SXSW International Film Festival, the Los Angeles Movie Awards, and the Las Vegas Film Festival to name a few. His mission is to continuously improve his skills to think like a producer but create like a director; his passion for his work is to not only create products on a level that matches the Hollywood professionalism, but to run his cast, crew & sets with that same quality. Marco's love for film drives him to not only appreciate how far he has come, but to excite & motivate him for how far he can go.
