JHOSIMAR VASQUEZ

Jhosimar Vasquez grew up in Cusco Peru. Raised by his parents and 4 older brothers. Jhosimar learned to work hard next to his family to seek for a better life.

Arriving at Mexico was a total change in Jhosimar's life. He was very young, but instantly absorbed something new. He was amazed at the different extremes in population. A sense of attention grew in him making him want to show the reality he lived in to the world.

Today Jhosimar lives in Los Angeles making films that tell the stories of people that live un-perfect lives, lives that are as close to reality as his own personal story.
