

BULLET TIME

57w Nederlands

Twee kogels, gemaakt om te doden, worden midden in hun dodelijke vlucht verliefd op elkaar.

Het overkomt Stanley en Daisy, de twee kogels die door cowboys Jesse en Pedro tijdens een ouderwetse wild-west shootout op elkaar worden afgevuurd. In plaats van voor hun dodelijke doel, kiezen de kogels voor de liefde, met desastreuze gevolgen voor de cowboys.

49w Engels

A desolate street in a small village in the Old West. Two cowboys face each other in a good-old-fashioned shootout!

But when both of the colts fire their deadly bullets, those bullets immediately fall in love with each other, forgetting what they're supposed to do! This has dramatic consequences...

A good old-fashioned western shoot-out, in which both the fired bullets fall in love with each other...

Biography Frodo Kuipers:

Frodo Kuipers (1976) studied animation at the ABV Tilburg (NL) and at KASK HogeschoolGhent (Belgium). In 2001 he graduated with great honours with his short 'Antipoden'. This film won awards at several film festivals and was nominated for the selection of the Cartoon d'Or by Anima Brussels (B) in 2002.

Frodo was an artist in residence at the NIAf (Netherlands Institute for Animation film) for almost 3 years, where he took part in numerous masterclasses and workshops by professionals like Michael Dudok de Wit, Paul Driessen, Normand Roger, Mark Baker, Daan Jippes, Piet Kroon, Konstantin Bronzit, Amanda Forbes and Wendy Tilby. He finished two films at the NIAf: 'Street' and 'Shipwrecked', which both were successful at international film festivals worldwide. 'Shipwrecked' was also noticed by ACME's Ron Diamond and became a part of ACME's Animation Show of Shows in 2006.

In 2005 Frodo founded Studio Mosquito was founded, where he focused mainly on directing independent animation shorts, but he also animated a broad collection of commissioned work, including a few scenes for Paul Driessens 'Oedipus' (il Luster Productions/ NFB-ONF). In 2016 Frodo finished his latest short film 'Bullet Time' (Merlijn Passier productions).

Frodo mainly works as a traditional 2D hand drawn animator. In his films he creates his own characteristic animation logic, with a focus on character. He is hugely interested by the way his characters manage in these imaginary worlds. Humour is taking an important place in his work, but there's definitely room for meaning.

Beside his animation work, Frodo teaches animation and directing at both the Willem de Kooning Academy in Rotterdam (NL), and the Arts Academy St. Joost in 's-Hertogenbosch (NL).
