

MARC hosts holiday events; free movie screening Friday

By Doug McMurdo
Dec. 13, 2019

Indoor activities dot the calendar in December. The week begins Dec. 12 with a wreath-making class from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Moab Arts & Recreation Center. Learn how to make a wreath with locally harvested evergreen. Call 435-259-6272 for more information.

Here's what else is on tap for the week ahead:

Dec. 13, Friday: Moab Indie Film Series presented by New Filmmakers LA and Moab to Monument Valley Film Commission. The free screening of the comedy "American Bistro," begins at 6:30 p.m. at Star Hall. "This is a feel good movie about two lonely souls who reconnect by chasing their dreams of opening a restaurant," said a press release from the Film Commission. Writer/director/star Arthur Diennet will be there in person for a post screening Q & A.

A free screening of "American Bistro" can be enjoyed Friday at Star Hall.

Photo courtesy of Gravitass Ventures