Animation. After a Storm. Ge Jing. Camberwell College of Arts. MA Illustration

This animation is an adventure, taking you into a world of consciousness. This is an exploratory animation, combining sound and picture, and space transformation. I designed three storms and nine scenes in this animation. The whole animation is not only the evolution of consciousness from birth to rebirth, but also a brainstorm, full of thinking about the human world. Each of us grows from thinking again and again, and thus gets a new life.

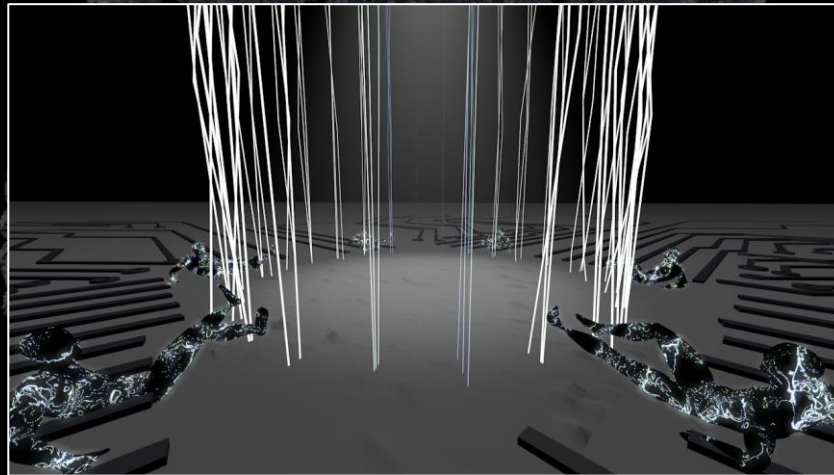

It can be said that this animation is the most profound work of my MA course. I almost integrated myself into this animation. I know it is important to be in a society which I do not understand the culture immediately which I have to redefine myself or to know myself. So, I tried my best to understand and learn in this year. 2020 is an uneasy year, with various breaking news continuous. I also experienced the lockdown in London during the outbreak. The bits and pieces experienced during the year are condensed into this animation. I sincerely hope that it could bring you a fantastic journey.
