AMERICAN DREAM CINEMA PRESENTS MY HAPPY PLACE PRODUCED BY JEANNE SCOTT
WRITTEN AND DIRECTED BY DEVIN SCOTT FEATURING LAURA BOHLIN CINEMATOGRAPHY ROB AMATO

My Happy Place

LOG LINE: What do you do when your world falls apart? You go to the happiest place on earth.

Synopsis: In 1965, 7-year-old Anna Boreman sets off on a 6-week road trip across America with her estranged, traveling minister father in search of forgiveness and Autopia.

Filmmaker statement: To create our found footage films, we start with the material we have (8mm and Super8mm vintage films) and work the story out, based on what footage we have, and using experiences and storytelling we come up with a piece. This is our 4th of this style. I have also written and directed live action feature and short films.

Cast: Laura Bohlin

Laura Bohlin lives in Los Angeles and is grateful that she gets to act in commercials and films, host/MC events, do voiceover gigs, and occasionally perform some theatre, sketch comedy, and improv! She studied acting with Billy Cowart of WCI Studios and improv with Jacquie Lowell as well as Upright Citizens Brigade.

Crew:

Devin Scott — Director

Devin is the co-founder of American Dream Cinema, one of San Diego's top film and video production companies. He has written, directed and edited numerous award-winning films in nearly every genre, including horror, comedy and documentary. His 33 Emmy Awards — for directing, writing, editing and cinematography — are a testament to his passion for filmmaking.

Jeanne Scott — Producer

Jeanne is the co-founder of American Dream Cinema. She has won numerous Emmy Awards as a producer, and is also a writer and researcher. She has been in the film industry since 1981.

Rob Amato — Director of Photography

Rob is a seasoned artist who has filmed for the History and Discovery channels, National Geographic and most broadcast and cable networks. He's also a crazy avid collector of surfboards and guitars.
