Director Biography:

Jordan Freeman is a filmmaker from Atlanta, GA. Recently graduated from the University of Southern California's film school, Jordan is dedicated to crafting exciting genre films with a strong emotional core. Her directorial debut short film SUNDOWN (2024) was selected for NewFilmmakers Los Angeles, the 50/50 Film Fest, and was nominated for Best Student Short at the Micheaux Film Festival. Additionally, Jordan produced Coach's Office (2024) through her student organization, the Black Art Collective, which will premiere at the Oscar-qualifying Martha's Vineyard African American Film Festival. She currently works as a Mailroom Trainee at the United Talent Agency.
